

HARMONY

EWOS[®]

Naturally Responsible Organic Feed

FISH FIRST

Organic

Supporting customers farm fish in harmony with nature

HARMONY

EWOS HARMONY is the leading range of diets approved for use in organic salmonid farming. We carefully formulate our diets from the highest quality raw materials to ensure every organic salmonid thrives and consumers benefit through clean conscientious eating.

Our range of products protect the fish through challenges encountered during its life. For the past 20 years we have achieved this by:

- Using natural, sustainably sourced ingredients
- Understanding customers specific needs
- Being the number one in supply of organic feed
- Providing the highest quality organic feed from our dedicated Scottish facility

Fish First is at the heart of everything we do. By consistently putting the Fish First, we provide better results. For the fish. For the farmers. For the environment and, ultimately, for the consumer.

Delivering our promise to you, now and in the future

Feed is a key part of the production chain for farmed fish. It is our responsibility to contribute to the organic production of fresh fish which will ultimately become food for people, without harming the fish or the environment.

EWOS HARMONY is formulated with consideration for both the fish and the environment and in accordance with the strict organic standards. Our feeds contain only natural and organic ingredients from sustainable and fully traceable sources.

All marine ingredients are from MarinTrust certified suppliers.

Working with our farmers we help them care for the fish through every challenge they may encounter across its life cycle. Feeds for both freshwater and seawater stages are prepared in full compliance with internationally recognized quality assurance organic guidelines including the EU organic standard.

What's good for the planet is good for me too

We all face the enormous challenge of taking better care of our planet while feeding a growing global population. Sustainability is a central pillar of our operation, and we take into consideration much more than just our environmental footprint.

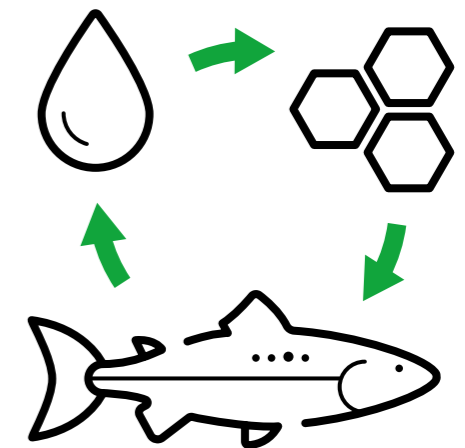

Consumers are making informed choices as they look for food produced in a more sustainable, welfare-focused and organically farmed environment.

The ingredients used in EWOS HARMONY feeds come from sustainable supply chains, reducing the competition for resources with other food production systems.

Circular economy

We prioritise fish oil and fish meal containing by-products whenever they are seasonally available. This circular economy approach reduces seafood waste by converting by-products from sustainable fisheries into valuable protein and Omega 3 fatty acids.

To ensure a robust and healthy fish is at the heart of all we do as a world leading feed supplier — to better support our customers current and future needs.

If you would like to find out more about EWOS HARMONY or any of our other products get in touch.

www.ewos.co.uk

www.ewos.no

HARMONY is compliant with organic standards including:

Quality assurance and food safety:

